State of South Dakota

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, Ernest Bruce Morrison was born in Kansas City, Kansas, on June 5, 1919, but for the past 34 years, E. B. Morrison has been all South Dakotan; and,

WHEREAS, After a college career that included a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Washburn University at Topeka and a Master of Arts from Mississippi Southern College, he received his doctorate from the University of Iowa; and,

WHEREAS, E. B. served his nation honorably during World War II in both the European and South Pacific Theaters; and,

WHEREAS, After a stint as the Assistant Director of the Menninger Foundation's Southard School, E. B. began his 34-year career as the Director of the South Dakota Crippled Children's Hospital and School in Sioux Falls; and,

WHEREAS, Dr. Morrison's contributions to humanity go far beyond the boundaries of the Crippled Children's Hospital, as evidenced by his past presidencies of the South Dakota Rehabilitation Association, the South Dakota Mental Health Association, the Earth Resources Observatory, the South Dakota Public Health Association, the Sioux Council Boy Scouts, the United Way of Sioux Falls, and the Civic Fine Arts Center; and,

WHEREAS, Dr. Morrison has been extremely active in promoting legislation to benefit children with special needs, was instrumental in establishing a 0-21 age mandated special education law; and,

WHEREAS, Dr. E. B. Morrison will retire from the directorship of the South Dakota Crippled Children's Hospital and School and will be honored by friends, colleagues and relatives for his tireless efforts on behalf of the countless children who came through the hospital's doors and who will always remember his bow tie and cigar;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim December 10, 1984, as in South Dakota, and I join the good doctor's many friends in wishing a happy and fulfilling retirement to a man who has enhanced thousands of South Dakotans' lives through his work and his energetic civic undertakings.
